POLLS SAY HUMPHREY IN STATE

MUCH OF THE color is gone from the Upper Peninsula landscape with the leaves fallen, but there's beauty everywhere still. Here white birches are in sharp contrast with the dark green of the cedars in back of them on the bank of the Big Cedar River in Menominee County and their whiteness is reflected sharply in the dark waters of the stream. The tranquility is a reminder that nature does not react like humans to election campaigns. (Daily Press Photo)

Woman At Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — A woman revolutionary led a Viet Cong delegation into Paris today to join the peace talks. She pledged that the war in South Vietnam will continue as long as the United States "props up the puppet administration of Saigon."

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, a member of National Liberation Front's central committee, said on her arrival from Moscow: "The population of South Vietnam ardently wishes for peace, but this peace cannot be dissociated from independence and liberty."

"As long as the American government has not renounced its aggressive aims and ... props up the puppet administration of Saigon ... the Vietnamese people will continue their struggle until final victory."

Mrs. Binh, the chairman of the Women's Liberation Association, heads a team of six members.

The delegation was greeted by flag-waving Vietnamese and Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin. And Ambassador Xuan Thuy, who leads Hanoi's delegation to the peace talks with the United States which began on May 13.

A spokesman said the NLF "will be present" at the first meeting of the expanded talks Wednesday. They are attending as a result of the agreement between Hanoi and Washington under which President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam last week.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has announced that his government will not send a delegation to the talks because it will not negotiate with the NLF as a separate entity. He said the boycott would continue until Saigon is assured of direct, serious talks with Hanoi.

U.S. officials privately feel Thieu's boycott will not wreck the peace discussion. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he expects South Vietnam to join the talks sooner or later.

Saigon newspapers on Sunday lauded Thieu's boycott and charged that Johnson, when he decided to quit bombing the North, broke promises made at his Honolulu meeting with the South Vietnamese president.

GOP Says Slip Isn't Enough To Elect HHH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final days of the 1968 presidential campaign are being played out, shadowed at its end as at the beginning by the war in Vietnam and the meaning of the latest polls and surveys about the outcome.

With the election only a day away, an Associated Press survey and the latest major public opinion polls show Republican Richard M. Nixon leading, but Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey slicing into his margin.

The AP survey showed Nixon ahead in 24 states with 216 electoral votes, Humphrey had the lead for 21 electoral votes and third party candidate George C. Wallace for 39.

But 20 states with 262 electoral votes were rated tossups, and Humphrey has been gaining ground in most of them.

The AP survey was based on data gathered prior to President Johnson's decision last Thursday to halt U.S. attacks against

4-Way Race For Wis. Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three-way races for governor, like the three-party presidential contest, offer wider choice—wider confusion—on ballots in six states in Tuesday's elections.

Another state, Wisconsin, has four candidates running for governor.

In addition to Democrats and Republicans the seven states offer Prohibition, Socialist, "New Reform Democrat" and "Taxpayers Revival" gubernatorial candidates.

The fringe party candidates aren't given much chance of winning.

Governorships at stake in 14 other states are confined to battles between the two major parties.

The GOP now holds a nationwide 26-24 edge in governorships.

Taxes are the major statewide issue in most governorship races but national issues such as law and order and the Vietnam bombing halt, could have a spill-over effect.

In Wisconsin's four-man race, Gov. Warren P. Knowles is running for re-election against Democratic Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette, Robert Wilkinson of the Socialist Workers Party and Adolph Wiggert of the Socialist Labor Party.

LaFollette has the advantage of a famous political name—he is the grandson of the late Sen. Robert "Fighting Bob" LaFollette, founder of the Progressive party—but faces an uphill fight.

Prohibitionists have gubernatorial candidates in three states—Melvin E. Hawk in Indiana, Harry Miller Sr. in Iowa and Marshall Uncapher in Kansas.

Former Judge R. A. Starr Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Raymond W. Starr, a U.S. District Court judge 15 years, a State Supreme Court justice six years and Michigan Attorney General two years, died at his Grand Rapids home Saturday. He was 80.

Appointed judge for the western district of Michigan by President Harry S. Truman in 1946, Starr retired in 1961, and had been inactive the last year because of ill health.

As a U.S. jurist, Starr claimed the distinction of hearing more than 4,000 cases and being reversed only once by a higher court. His territory included the Upper Peninsula, as well as the western half of Michigan.

Floods Kill 100 In Italian Alps

ROME (AP) — Rescue teams battled mud and floods today to search for survivors of weekend floods and landslides that cut a path of death and destruction along the southern edge of the Italian Alps.

More than 100 dead were counted and officials feared the final toll may go much higher, exceeding the 113 who died in the floods in Florence and Venice two years ago today. That was the worst flood in modern Italian history.

The prefecture at Vercelli, at the apex of a tragic triangle formed by three overflowing rivers northeast of Turin, announced that 91 bodies had been found in that province, the worst hit area in the disaster zone.

At least 13 others were missing, and 10 other dead were reported in other sections of northern Italy.

Hundreds of army and civilian rescue workers struggled over muddy washed-out roadbeds to reach the disaster area in Vercelli province still being swept by heavy rains this morning.

"It looked like some giant steamroller had smashed through the valley," said one pilot who flew over the Mosso valley in the foothills of the Alps, where 64 persons were smothered in the rubble of their houses. The section is a wool-producing region.

Dozens of factories, farm buildings, houses and cars were lost in the landslides which the rainstorm sent rumbling down north of Turin.

Venice had its fourth highest water in 40 years. The lagoon waters surged over the banks of the canals and sent inhabitants into their boots and boats.

34 Women Run For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate could get its second lady member and the House its first Negro congresswoman in congressional elections Tuesday that have 34 women in the running.

Of the 10 women incumbents, Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, faces the toughest election of her 28-year congressional career, and freshman Rep. Margaret Heckler, R-Mass., is in a close race.

The other eight incumbent congresswomen are expected to be back for the session starting Jan. 3.

Radio station owner Katherine Peden of Hopkinsville, Ky., is given a fighting chance to join Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, in the Senate.

But Mrs. Peden's Republican opponent, former Jefferson County judge Marlow W. Cook, is favored to win the race for retiring GOP Sen. Thurston B. Morton's seat.

Of just two Negro women candidates for Congress, a good chance is given 43-year-old Democrat Shirley Chisholm. The first Negro woman member of the New York State Assembly, she is running in the new 12th district of Manhattan that includes Bedford-Stuyvesant, one of the country's largest Negro slum areas.

Her opponents in the three-way race are well-known civil rights leader James Farmer, one of the founders of the Congress of Racial Equality running on the Liberal-Republican ticket, and Conservative Ralph L. Carrano, a 45-year-old public relations man.

Political observers give only a slim chance to Republican Janet Robert Jennings, the second Negro woman candidate, running in Illinois.

Mrs. Jennings, 35, a Chicago schoolteacher and former campaign secretary for Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., is challenging Democratic incumbent Rep. William L. Dawson, who has represented Illinois' first district since 1942. Dawson is a Negro.

Freedom Fighter Hijacks Airliner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A National Air Lines jet with 57 persons aboard was hijacked to Cuba today while en route to Miami from New Orleans, a spokesman for the airlines announced.

The pilot, Capt. Antonio Hunter radioed he was being forced to fly the Boeing 727.

Later, the pilot radioed his plane was being hijacked "by a Black Nationalist freedom fighter," said an official of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Strategists Predict GOP Gain In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are expected to maintain control of the Senate in Tuesday's elections but some Republican gains are likely.

The Democrats, who have controlled the Senate the past 12 years, now have a 63 to 37 majority and even the Senate Republican Campaign Committee admits the GOP is unlikely to obtain the 14-seat turnover necessary for control.

But with Republicans hoping to pick up as many as 15 new Senate seats—and Democrats expecting five at most—a GOP takeover is not out of the question and gains more than likely.

Democratic strategists say the Vietnam bombing halt has increased their chances of holding the Republicans to a net gain of two. They figure the Republicans might win Arizona, Florida, Maryland and Ohio but lose California and Iowa.

Republican strategists say in addition to those four states they could win in Alaska, Connecticut, Idaho, Indiana, Nevada, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The Democrats figure besides California and Iowa they could pick up new Senate seats in Utah and New Hampshire, and possibly Kentucky.

In all, 23 Senate seats now held by Democrats are at stake Tuesday while only 11 held by Republicans are on the line.

In Senate races: Arizona—Republican Barry Goldwater is heavily favored to defeat Democrat Roy Elson for the seat of retiring Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden.

Arkansas—Democratic Sen. J. W. Fulbright is favored to win re-election over Republican challenger Charles J. Bernard.

California — Former Democratic state Controller Alan Cranston is favored to defeat Republican Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty who beat incumbent Thomas H. Kuchel in the primary.

Nelson Favored
Illinois—Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen is expected to be re-elected over Democratic Atty. Gen. William G. Clark.

Indiana—Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh is credited with a narrow lead but Republicans think a strong vote for Richard M. Nixon could give Republican William D. Ruckelshaus the Senate win.

New York—Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits has the Liberal party endorsement and is expected to defeat Democratic challenger Paul O'Dwyer and Conservative James L. Buckley.

Oregon—Republicans and some independent observers say veteran Democratic Sen. Wayne L. Morse could be upset by Rep. Robert W. Packwood.

Wisconsin—Democratic Sen. Gaylord Nelson could be hurt by a strong Republican vote but polls indicate his challenger, state Sen. Jerris Leonard, is still relatively unknown to voters.

Jordan Puts Down Palestinian Raiders

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Jordanian government announced it had put down an attempt today by a group of Palestinian commandos to foment civil strife in the kingdom.

In a broadcast King Hussein told his people guerrilla action against Israel would continue "purified from these stealthy treacherous elements."

The king's emotional speech over Amman Radio was the first official explanation of widespread shooting and demonstrations that swept Amman this morning.

A later communique from the interior ministry indicates the trouble was over—at least for the moment—but gave no word on casualties.

The king said the commando group which he accused of being behind the trouble was concentrating all its efforts against his government.

The Interior Ministry communique identified the commando group as the "Victory Phalanges" and said its leader was Taher Dablan.

The "Victory Phalanges" was one of three organizations which claimed to have been responsible for the giant fire at Israel's Lod Airport near Tel Aviv Oct. 24.

The communique said fighting began when a group of commandos attacked a police patrol car and held the occupants.

When police reinforcements arrived, it said, the guerrillas dispersed into the crowded refugee districts of Amman.

Later the guerrillas opened "heavy fire" from the areas where they had holed up, and exhorting women and children to come out and demonstrate for their cause, the communique added.

The government accused the group of having extorted money from the people to finance its activities and said "the citizens have been complaining of this for the past several months."

Hussein said the group's goal is to undermine Jordan's steadfastness against Israel and to foment trouble with other Arab countries.

Diplomatic sources said the firing started when the army tried to arrest selected leaders of the Arab guerrilla organizations which have been raiding Israel from bases in Jordan. This set off demonstrations in Palestinian refugee camps at Ashrafia and Jabal Hussein.

The army surrounded the two camps and moved quickly to quell other demonstrations which developed in scattered sections of Amman. Sources said the demonstrators were dispersed after more than four hours of shooting.

The gunfire died down at 10:30 a.m., and Morris Draper, political officer at the U.S. Embassy, said the army "appears to be completely in control at this time."

None of the sources immediately available had any word of casualties or damage.

Draper said no Americans were hurt or involved in the violence. He said the Embassy had contacted all American residents and tourist hotels in Amman.

Campaign Spending Will Run About $300 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Candidates for political office, from president to dogcatcher, will have spent between $250 million and $300 million by the time this year's campaign bills are paid.

A third of that total is being spent in pursuit of the presidency alone.

The estimates, compiled by experts in campaign financing, are supported by an Associated Press survey of political spending.

Aside from the presidential race, the costliest contests are those for major statewide office in the big states.

A hotly contested Senate race, such as in California, may involve expenditures of $5 million.

Even a campaign for a House seat may cost a lot with records showing House races in which more than $500,000 was spent.

All this spending is financed by contributions and loans—

some large, many small. And some candidates dig deep into their own pockets for needed funds.

Estimates Vary

Herbert E. Alexander of the Citizens Research Foundation in Princeton, N.J., a recognized expert, estimates the total cost of 1968 political campaigning at $250 million to $275 million.

Stephen Horn, a senior research fellow with the Brookings Institution in Washington, estimates $250 million to $300 million.

It is impossible to obtain complete and accurate totals because of loose and varied laws regulating the reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures.

Federal law doesn't require any reports by candidates on their expenditures in winning party nominations. States have varying requirements; some have none at all.

Presidential and vice presidential candidates aren't required to file statements, although national committees working in their behalf must report expenditures to Congress.

Cost Estimates

The camps of the three leading contenders have provided The AP with these estimates of their costs for the general election campaign:

—Republicans Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew, more than $20 million.

—Democrats Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, about $12 million.

—American Independents George C. Wallace and Curtis E. LeMay, $10 million to $20 million.

To these totals must be added another $30 million to $35 million which these candidates and their unsuccessful opponents spent prior to the party nominating conventions.

War Is Topic

Compared to the Times survey of a month ago, Nixon has lost 81 electoral votes and Wallace 21. Humphrey has gained 49, while those considered too close to call have increased by 53 electoral votes.

The Vietnam war as always was a prime subject of campaign talk Sunday.

Nixon, in a television interview, offered to go to Paris, or to Saigon, should the President deem that helpful.

Nixon appeared on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press."

"If he would, for example, consider it helpful for me to go

Sec'y Freeman Sees Disaster If Farm Price Country Not Going To Hell: Freeman

"It is the plain, simple truth that this country is not going to hell in a handbasket," Orville L. Freeman, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, told a Democratic women's luncheon in Escanaba Saturday noon.

Freeman challenged Richard Nixon's "Wall Street and Madison Avenue campaign" and charged that Nixon has promised tax concessions to "the great corporations" if he is elected.

Of independent party candidate George Wallace, Freeman said that "Mr. Wallace has no chance of becoming president of the United States" and that "his campaign panders to the worst in us."

Wallace will be unable to carry any of the large states and therefore "a vote for Wallace would be a vote for Nixon," Freeman told the several hundred women attending the luncheon hosted by five Delta County Democratic candidates.

Erlandsen Keynotes

Hosts were Einar E. Erlandsen, candidate for District 107 state representative; Nicholas P. Chapekis, prosecuting attorney; William E. Butler, county clerk; Harold O. Finman, sheriff; and Myrtle V. Ottensman, for county treasurer.

They and other Democratic candidates were introduced and spoke briefly in advance of Freeman's appearance on the program. Freeman is making a campaign swing through northern Michigan on behalf of the Democratic candidates, including Raymond F. Clevenger, 11th district candidate for congressman.

Erlandsen and Clevenger are seeking return to office after defeat two years ago.

Keynoting the luncheon program, Erlandsen said that the Democratic party policies and administration fights inflation by "taxation, not by laying off people."

"The Republicans believe the way to control inflation is to lay off a million people," Erlandsen said.

Clevenger And Taxes

Clevenger assailed the voting record of the Republican opponent and expressed concern for the rising cost of maintaining schools. He said:

"We can't as a people continue to bear an increasing burden of property taxes," and called for increased state and federal funding of educational programs "to meet the educational needs of all our people."

Mrs. Rodger Murray was mistress of ceremonies and George St. Louis, Delta County Democratic chairman, introduced Freeman. The Rev. Stephen Mayrand delivered invocation and the Rev. Robert Selberg the benediction.

Presented were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Shipman and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Olivares (Shipman and Olivares are candidates for Delta district judge); Mayor Cecil Chase; Mrs. E. C. Villeneuve, retiring county treasurer, who received a corsage; Stanley Dominick, Frank Stupak, C. Elmer Olson, Norbert Murphy and H. George Nelson, candidates for county board of supervisors.

Humphrey Praised

A telegram was read from Vice President Hubert Humphrey calling upon Democrats in Delta County to "get out and vote."

Freeman said that not only is this country "not going to hell in a handbasket," but that this country has progressed to greater economic heights, made progress in human rights, in education, health care and other programs beyond those "made before by anybody, anywhere on the face of the earth."

He called upon those who are fearful of "stop howling" and join in completing the American dream to end poverty, to end discrimination, to achieve "human dignity for all."

Freeman said in part:

"We have come a long way toward that dream, and we are not going to stop now. We will push on, with them or without them. This is no time to form the wagons in a circle."

"Why should we form up on the defensive when we are in the midst of more than 7½ years of uninterrupted economic expansion?"

"And I am proud, as a Democrat, that my party's candidate for President — Hubert Humphrey — is acknowledged as one of the 'founding fathers' of federal aid to education at all levels, that he speaks for the public educational philosophy of an expanding nation, a population aspiring to economic and educational opportunity for all."

"I am proud, as a Democrat and I know you are too, that more Federal legislation to promote and improve education has been enacted since 1960 than in all the previous years of our history."

"The Republicans are breaking a lot of balloons and sweeping a lot of confetti but they can't find the Republican accomplishments in education."

Nixon Assailed

"They can't find them because the party that is now campaigning on a call for 'a marked improvement of economic and educational opportunities' didn't pass a single major education bill during its last tenure in power. Only one such bill was passed during the 8 long Republican years — and that was enacted by a Democratic Congress."

"And American voters are finding behind the Republican candidate's new smile and new shoe shine, an old record of sell-outs of education."

"They are finding that: 'In 1947, as a Congressman, Richard Nixon voted against a $30 million increase in the school lunch program.' 'In 1948 he ducked the key vote on federal aid to impacted areas.' 'In 1950 he voted against a public library demonstration bill.' 'In 1951, as a Senator, he voted against a program emphasizing the need for federal aid to smaller medical schools.' 'Again in 1951, he voted to cut aid to impacted areas.' 'In 1952, he voted to deny oil revenues from submerged lands to federal aid to education.'"

Called "Promises"

"And in 1960, as Vice President, he failed to cast the tie-breaking vote that would have authorized $1.1 billion a year in aid for public school construction and direct support for teachers' salaries."

"Now I submit that that's some record to put before the American people, and I say it would take some nerve to stand on that record and tell the people about all the educational opportunities you and your party will provide."

"And that is why they are not standing on that record. They don't have the nerve. They are doing as Ray Clevenger's opponent is doing — claiming credit for everything good that was enacted by Democrats when Ray was in Congress and before, and promising us more and better of the very things they voted to cut or to eliminate entirely."

"And it's not just education. Education is typical."

"Richard Nixon the candidate for example, brushes the confetti from his Wall Street blue suit, and tells us he's for 'revitalization of rural America' — for more jobs and opportunity in the Upper Peninsula and in Escanaba."

Nixon Record

"But Richard Nixon the Congressman voted against every rural areas development bill he had a chance to vote on and Richard Nixon the Vice President collaborated in vetoing two times the forerunners of the Area Redevelopment Act."

"Nixon, campaigning as the friend of labor, helped draft, as a congressman, the Taft-Hartley Act."

"Education, labor, rural America, Health, Welfare — you name it and the American people are finding consistent inconsistencies between Republican talk and Republican action."

"Remember, John F. Kennedy was elected by the margin of one vote in each precinct — and that means your precinct as well as those of your co-workers. It may well mean the same Tuesday."

"We are going to win it. And I know you'll do your best — because you, too, are part of what's right with America," Freeman concluded.

Hair Fashions

A wig and hair fashions show was presented for the entertainment of the women by Edward Hurley, Escanaba, assisted by Marion Poisson of Marquette.

Models included the mes-

'Birds' Enjoyed At Holy Name

A large responsive audience viewed the second performance of Aristophanes play, "The Birds," at Holy Name High School Sunday night.

The cast was sparked by Dan Snow's excellent portrayal of Pisthetairus, and by Paul Guenette's equally fine performance as Euelpides. Searching for a utopia, they meet the birdland leader Epos the Hoopoe, played by Mark Williams. The audience enjoyed the Hoopoe's performance, especially his bird chant, calling the birds to assemble.

A highlight among the minor characters was the appearance of the ludicrous Poet, played by Tim Durkin. Satirical humor on present day political situations was inserted by Steve Ammel as the Herald, Sue LeMire as the Lawyer, Venetia Bryers as Meton, and by the Poet, Tim Durkin.

This is the first presentation of a Greek comedy in this area. Costumes, stage setting, and enjoyable characters make it a play well worth seeing.

"The Birds" will be presented for the last time in the Holy Name multipurpose room at 8 p.m. today. Tickets will be available at the door. — MRS. RUPERT PRINISKI.

Freedom Shares

John L. Greene, Delta County chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds, reports that recent legislation permits the redemption of Savings Notes (Freedom Shares) in the same manner as Series E Bonds. Formerly, Freedom Shares had to be forwarded to a Federal Reserve Bank for redemption.

Freedom Shares, issued on and after June 1, 1968, now pay 5 per cent, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity of 4½ years.

Supports, Crop Controls Are Dropped

Farmer Lot Gains But Is Still Poor

By JEAN WORTH

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman came to the Upper Peninsula in the weekend to urge the Democratic cause in the Presidential election on Tuesday.

He spoke at Escanaba at a large luncheon meeting of Democratic women at Teamsters' Hall at noon and to a Democratic women at Team-In Iron River in the evening on Saturday.

He said that the farmers would be in trouble if they voted for Richard Nixon; that their hope was in Vice President Hubert Humphrey and in Ray Clevenger, the Democratic nominee for Congress in the 11th Michigan District.

Freeman has been secretary of agriculture for nearly 8 years. The record was there, controversial as all agricultural records have been since the federal government stepped deeply into farm control in World War II to bolster the production of food.

Few Are Farmers
Relatively few of the Democrats that Freeman addressed in the U.P. were farmers. There aren't many farmers left in America and each year their number shrinks some more.

Their political influence sinks steadily. In 1970 there'll be a reapportionment of congressional seats and it will nosedive again.

Freeman says that Tuesday's election is the most important that American farmers have ever voted in.

There are only 47 members of the U.S. House of Representatives (of more than 400) who have farmers as one fifth of their constituents. And even where this fraction prevails the farmers are divided, says Freeman, about government agricultural policy.

Farm Bureau Stand
The largest and most influential farm organization in Michigan, in the Upper Peninsula and in the nation is the Farm Bureau. Its leader, Charles Shuman, is urging upon the nation a farm policy that Freeman believes would be suicidal.

Get the government out of farming, suggests the Farm Bureau Federation, representing all the county and state Farm Bureaus of the nation. Let the market seek a natural level for farm produce, and stop all this government taxing and giving away to support farm prices and to restrict the growing of crops, Shuman suggests. Freeman says that Shuman admits that there'll be a period of trouble and adjustment if the federal farm price support and crop control program is junked, but thinks that it will be tolerable.

Foresees Crisis
Freeman thinks it will destroy American agriculture and unsettle the economic stability of the nation.

Not only farmers, but the American public is to make a judgment on the issue on Tuesday. It has been an issue not much discussed in the campaign, but it is one of the major ones. Freeman says that Nixon doesn't understand agriculture, but will accept the leadership of men like the Farm Bureau Federation's Shuman, who will throw out the federal farm program.

Shuman and Freeman are agreed on some things. One of them is that the American farmer isn't as well paid for his efforts in our economy as the persons in industry, the professions, business and other endeavors.

Freeman is a sort of professional optimist on the subject, but even he sees a troubled future for the American farmer, no matter what happens.

Farms Decline
The number of U.S. farms has been declining for years. Freeman sees the trend continuing.

Farmers don't earn a fair share of national income. Eight years ago when Freeman took office they got only 55 per cent of non-farm income. Now, he says the figure is up to 73 per cent because of the Democratic Administration's farm policies.

But he concedes that it's still too low, comparatively. The federal farm program — supporting farm product prices and restricting production by renting land to take it out of crop production — is aimed to give the farmers bargaining power.

Their political influence diminishes with their numbers and they also operate in a situation of such enormous productive capacity that there is a chronic surplus of food, says Freeman. Unless this productive capacity is kept in harness, he argues, the surpluses will destroy prices.

Program Revised
Shuman and the Farm Bureau Federation disagree and argue that government controls keep the farmer from being more efficient and producing his way into enlarged income in a free market.

The new farm controls have been liberalized since Ira Benson's time in the Eisenhower Administration, says Freeman. They now offer low price supports plus payments for taking land out of crop production. Freeman says agricultural income has increased 40 per cent in his years in dollar volume and that exports have increased. Farmers' gross was $38 billion and net $11.7 billion when he took office and now it's $51 billion and $15 billion a year.

Asked how much of the gain he thought was inflation he said about 5 per cent, but added "expenses have gone up, too, but not as much as prices and production."

Food Gifts
There's no magic ahead in giveaway food exports, he believes. The U.S. has tried that and learned the hard way that gifts must be made very carefully to avoid upsetting prices in the gifted countries.

"When you can produce more than you can sell," he says "unless you hold production down you're going to break prices. Farmers try to produce more to survive. Today more food and fiber is produced by the family type farms than by the industrial type farms. (Definition: a farm with 1½ man years of outside labor or less is a family farm.) Family farms are a third larger than they were 7 years ago. We have given a fair chance for the family farm with 50 cows to compete with the industrial farm of 500 cows.

"But if we drive prices down the big farm can write it off as a tax loss and the little farm will be destroyed. The Farm Bureau is willing to go through this process.

"The farm program is not a poverty program, it is designed for the adequate sized commercial farm operator. We're giving away 5 per cent of our farm production ($2.5 billion a year abroad and $1 billion in the U.S.) and we're producing 12 per cent over needs, so we must cut back 5 per cent. The guts of the problem is that we can produce more food than we can use or give away.

"American agriculture is pretty good. Our people spend less than any other people in history on food, only 17 per cent of their take home pay."

The Federal Reserve Bank in New York City handles more than 861 million checks and money orders a year, with a face value of almost $620 billion.

U. S. SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE Orville Freeman congratulates Richard Demski, a Job Corpsman from a Flint suburb who learned carpentry skills in this youth program of the U. S. Forest Service, U. S. ## Job Corpsman Here Gets Praise From Secretary

Alfred H. Trout, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest introduced Richard Demski, 17, to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in Escanaba Saturday as one of the young men who have benefited from the Job Corps Program of the U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Mr. Secretary," said Trout at Escanaba Area Airport, "this is a young man who has come a long way up the ladder of opportunity made possible by your Department's Job Corps Program."

"His name is Richard Demski. Richard was one of three job corpsmen recently graduated from the Anthony Civilian Conservation Center on the Monongahela National Forest in West Virginia. These three young men were the first corpsmen to complete the newly instituted union-operated carpentry course made possible through a contract with the Office of Economic Opportunity and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. This agreement was implemented to provide realistic instruction which would prepare young men to enter this trade at a qualified apprentice level.

"Richard is now almost 18. He grew up in the Flint Suburb of Washington, Mich., after being abandoned by his parents soon after birth. His early life was difficult. The future seemed dim at best, opportunities for improvement — out of reach. He learned about the 'new hope' available through the work-training Job Corps program.

"In May, 1968, Richard arrived at the Hoxey Civilian Conservation Center on the Huron-Manistee National Forest near Cadillac, Mich. Here in his new environment he progressed rapidly and in July was transferred to the Anthony CCC for the carpentry course.

"Richard completed the course in October and through Neil Kositzky and Carpenters Local 1832 had a job waiting for him with the Rust Construction Co. here, the contractor presently involved in the Mead Corp. expansion of the Escanaba Paper Co. mill.

"He says, with a broad grin, that the $3.80 per hour that he's presently making is wonderful. "He hopes to be able to join the U.S. Navy when he becomes 18."

Freeman congratulated Demski on his progress in the Job Corps and in private employment since his graduation and wished him well in his career as a carpenter.

Lady Jane Grey became known as the "nine days' queen" of England because her reign was only of nine days' duration.

GOP Platform For Agriculture

The Republican campaign against the Democratic Administration's farm policy record is stressing that:

"Everybody in the food business is doing fine but the farmer. America's 1,037,000 largest farmers out of 3,166,000 farmers are struggling to avoid an administration induced farm collapse. Net return on investment: Food processors 19.5 pct., food distributors 18.4 pct., largest farmers 1.3 pct."

"America's largest farmers—the top 166 per cent of all farms with gross annual sales of over $20,000, after allowance for capital at U.S. Department of Agriculture rate of 6 per cent earned on an average investment of $198,000 per farm, earned much less than most city workers; only $4,614 compared to $8,000 per year for construction workers, $6,032 for food products workers, $5,564 for wholesale trade workers."

Richard Nixon: "During the past decade farmers' taxes have gone up 78 per cent, labor costs 46 per cent, machinery costs 30 per cent, debt interest 59 per cent. Everything he has to buy has gone up; everything he has to sell has gone down. The parity ration has shriveled to a mere 74 per cent—the lowest since the darkest days of the depression.

"I propose: honest recognition of the importance of a sound agriculture to our national well-being... farmers are entitled to a commitment that their special problems will be treated quickly and sympathetically... We must substitute good common sense for petty partisanship in and with agriculture... It is high time we had a Secretary of Agriculture who will spend his time not telling off the farmers of America, but instead will talk for them."

CARPETBAGGER

The term, carpetbagger, did not originate in the reconstruction after the Civil War but was a term of derision long before that event. It was applied in the old west to denote promoters of wildcat banks whose earthly possessions were contained in their carpetbags.

Who Can Govern?

With the Presidential election at hand and the victory of Richard Nixon indicated, political interest will turn to the practical results of the election.

Who can govern best was a basic question about the candidates. The thought was rather widely expressed that the country is so deeply divided on several issues that neither Nixon nor Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, could unite it completely.

The consensus of political writers appears to be that Nixon would do the best job of organizing the government, having superior talents in that field — although he certainly didn't make a good start of it with his choice of Spiro Agnew — and that Humphrey would have most hope of effective appeal to dissident groups, most notably youth and the Negroes.

Most voters expect the election of a President can work some sort of magic result, but it doesn't happen that way. The President can lead, but Congress doesn't have to follow, so unless there is effective liaison between them lawmaking lags.

Both Nixon and Humphrey are immensely experienced in federal government. Humphrey might be expected to be the more effective in getting Congressional cooperation in his program, because of the prospective party makeup of the new Congress, but this isn't a surety by any means because the temper of the new Congress is expected to be conservative, no matter which party controls its house. This reflects the mood of the country.

Whoever is elected will make an all-out effort to end the Vietnam war. Nixon would be less hobbled in the effort than Humphrey because of Humphrey's role in the Johnson Administration and desire not to make it appear that it goofed.

In this connection the turnabout of McGeorge Bundy on the war should put it in focus for any Americans who still believe that we're not in a booby trap there. Bundy was President Johnson's analyzer and deviser of defense and foreign policy when we escalated the war in Vietnam. He now says that it was the right thing to do at the time, but that the bombing of North Vietnam could have been stopped a long time ago with only marginal effect on the military situation there and he has urged an unconditional halt in the bombing, which is now halted.

President Johnson, with other ideas about it, wanted to use it as a trump card in peace negotiations, preferably before Tuesday's election to aid Vice President Humphrey.

The basic issue in Vietnam now is not about bombing, but how the country shall be governed, as the United States prescribes, or as the Vietnamese decide for themselves. Nixon can bring a harder head to the solution of that problem than Humphrey.

The larger, more durable problems facing the nation are on the home front: Racism and inflation. The Negroes have been notable for their absence from Nixon's campaign trail. He and Humphrey agree on the need for more social justice while restoring civil peace, but they differ on method. Nixon says that the Great Society approach has been a flop and he wants a decentralization of power and more reliance on private enterprise and local and state government to create jobs and provide housing.

Both nominees promised more Social Security benefits and stress the need for more educational services.

Humphrey's free wheeling welfarism offers less hope of coping effectively with the inflation problem than Nixon's skill in organization and administration. Despite the 10 per cent income tax surcharge enacted in July, American consumers are buying even more than they did before the levy. Third quarter savings declined and consumer spending jumped 10 per cent over the same quarter last year. Total U. S. goods and services reached an annual rate of $870 billion in the third quarter, just a little less than the $21 billion average rise of the first two quarters, but nearly half of the increase was not actual, but the inflated value of the dollar.

Cutting our present 4.5 per cent annual rate of inflation (money is losing its value at that rate yearly) to a manageable 2 per cent will take strong action by the new President and by Congress. The nation had better be ready to encourage them to be courageous or our constant push for more pay will only buy us more inflation.

Letters

PRASE

I wish to express the appreciation of the educators of the Upper Peninsula for the excellent cooperation and warm welcome we received from the City of Escanaba, the Escanaba Area Schools administration and staff, the Chamber of Commerce and its members, the churches which helped to provide eating facilities, the Escanaba League of Women Voters, the Jefferson and Franklin PTAs, the Players de Noc, Bay de Noc Community College, the area industrial plants, the Escanaba Daily Press, and all the other groups and individuals who helped to make the 1968 official state institute days so meaningful.

Although the planning committee of MEA Regions 16, 17, and 18 were disappointed that more of the Upper Peninsula teachers could not have participated in the program, we felt that the 1,500 teachers who did come to Escanaba found a number of enriching programs and material exhibits from which the children of our areas will benefit.

My especial thanks I wish to extend to Kenneth Myllyla, who acted so competently as executive secretary of the conference, Vernon Ihlenfeldt, who directed publicity, Douglas McEachern, who managed the exhibitions, and very warm thanks to Superintendent Luther Barrett, who was such a gracious host. Escanaba is very fortunate to have such fine facilities, and the teachers of the Upper Peninsula were very fortunate to have been able to use them.

Bomb Kills Four

CECCANO, Italy (AP) — A supposedly defused bomb used as a graveyard marker exploded Friday, killing four persons and injuring at least 10.

The explosion was attributed to heat from candles lit for an All Saints Day ceremony. More than 100 persons were in the town cemetery for the church holiday at the time.

Auto Industries Break Records

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. reported Friday their U.S. factories broke automobile production records for October, and both Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. reported output ahead of that for the same 1967 month.

Ford said its October U.S. truck production also was a record for the month, while both GM and Chrysler reported gains over the previous October.

Ford reported its 17 U.S. plants built 246,717 cars and 59,481 trucks last month, against a previous record of 243,181 cars and 50,139 trucks in October of 1966.

Crucial Steps To Victory In Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is popular in some quarters to say the war in Vietnam cannot be won.

This defeatism does not square with our experiences in other insurgencies in which the United States coupled military aid with determined efforts to create viable, democratic government.

In each successful case, the United States followed Mao Tse-tung's dictum: The only chance for victory is to throw the major responsibility on the local government; the local people must bear the brunt of the fighting.

Look for a moment at the quashing of the Philippine Huk guerrillas:

Incompetent and corrupt army officers were dismissed; provisions were made to secure honest elections; Huk leaders were helped to establish themselves on farms where they could make an honest living, and government officials tinged with corruption were rooted out.

These moves supplemented army thrusts. They made victory possible.

Since the death of former Philippine President Magsaysay, a number of these reforms have fallen by the wayside, and there has been a revival of the Huk movement.

Laos also must be listed as a victory even though the North Vietnamese occupy eastern Laos and though their superior armaments could conquer the nation with ease.

Weeks Get Names

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Nov. 21 as Mayflower Compact Day in Michigan, in honor of the 348th anniversary of that document's signing by the pilgrims. Romney also designated Nov. 18-24 as Better Literature for Youth Week and Dec. 2-8 as Leader Dog Week in the state.

Paris' Eiffel Tower has attracted a host of daredevils, including two unsuccessful ones: An Austrian inventor who tested a pair of aerodynamically unsound homemade wings and a Frenchman whose new parachute proved a dismal failure.

The guerrilla movement is ineffective. Hanoi's strength is purely the strength of a relatively powerful invader. Lao citizens living in occupied territory are disaffected. Few willingly co-operate with the invaders.

Again, the cue to success was political. One way and another, the United States brought about a coalition of the conservatives, middle-of-the-roads and the non-Communists left. Though the Communists were included, steps were taken to prevent them from destroying the government.

Other examples that can be cited include Venezuela, Bolivia, Indonesia.

In South Vietnam, over the past two years, a large group of corrupt high army officials has been dismissed—including a chief of naval operations, a deputy prime minister, half of major corps area commanders and a chief of the national police. This has not yet solved the corruption problem. In some cases the replacements have also fallen to corruption on a grand scale.

Concurrent with this stumbling march toward improvement in the south are reports of increasing corruption in the north.

Very strong steps have been taken in South Vietnam toward honest elections. The South Vietnamese still have a long way to go but they're a world away from the Hitler-type elections run by Hanoi.

So much for their gains. The South Vietnamese have not solved the problem of resettling the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who surrender or are captured. Saigon has not even evolved a satisfactory resettlement program for the millions of refugees. As is well-known, the United States in the past several years has taken over too much of the fighting and not spent enough effort in developing the abilities of the potentially excellent South Vietnamese soldiers.

On balance, based on U. S. experience elsewhere, the Vietnamese war appears to be winnable. We are taking some of the steps that have proved their worth in other underground insurgencies. We still have some distance to go.

Oswald: "The bidding of today's hand appears slightly abnormal. North would usually respond one heart or jump to three diamonds but because the game was rubber bridge and North and South had a part score of 90, the two diamond bid could be read as a mild slam try. South's two spade call was an acceptance and North's jump to four diamonds showed that his two-diamond call had been an underbid. That was enough for South. He jumped to the diamond slam."

Jim: "Since the trumps break 2-2 and the club finesse works South would have no trouble making a grand slam. However, six diamonds was the correct contract because it is bad policy to bid a grand slam that depends on a finesse. Did South make seven?"

Oswald: "As a matter of fact I made up the bidding. As it was actually played, North responded one heart, South went to one spade and North bid one no-trump. South passed and North managed to make 11 tricks. The hand is given as a starter for a discussion of rubber bridge bidding when there is a part score."

Jim: "It is about time we devoted a few articles to that subject. It is very complex, since each part score presents its own problems. When you have 90 on score any bid of a new suit is a bid of game and may be passed, so if responder wants to invite a slam he has three choices. He can make a jump shift, jump in no-trump, or he can raise his partner."

Oswald: "Anyway, the box shows how the bidding should have gone. Let's discuss more part score bidding situations the rest of the week."

Ann Landers

Educated Vote Will Get Best Politician

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you told "Bellyful" that not all politicians are phonies and power-hungry egomaniacs. You said there were some very decent people holding public office — sincere, honest, dedicated individuals who could have a much easier life if they chose another career.

I'm sure you are correct when you say not all politicians are third-raters, but it's those 95 per cent that make the other 5 per cent look bad. Do you have the courage to print this? We'll see. — BELLYFUL NUMBER 2

Dear Number 2: People get the kind of government they deserve. If you've had a bellyful of "third-raters," why don't you do something about it?

By now I hope you have informed yourself on the issues, learned what the candidates stand for — or what they won't stand for. You should also compare the candidates' campaign promises with their past performances. Tomorrow you get an opportunity to express yourself. Please get off your back porch and vote for the men you believe will lead our country in the direction it should go.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 20-year-old woman who is contemplating marriage to a fine man. The problem — although I have gone over his wonderful qualities in my mind at least 1,000 times, I feel there is some element of excitement missing in our relationship.

We are planning a winter wedding and still there are nagging doubts — even as I purchase linen and household furnishings.

Last week I confided my uncertainty to my mother and she said, "Don't worry, things will work out. I experienced the same doubts when I married your father 30 years ago." My father heard her say this and now he is so depressed I can barely stand to look at him. He is convinced my mother did not love him when they married and that she has been pretending ever since.

My mother interprets Dad's behavior as a sign that he does not love her and is sure he never did. Now she says her heart is broken after 30 years and five children and she feels she has wasted her life. Yesterday she said, "Don't marry until a man comes along who really and truly thrills you." What should I do? — FEELING MIGHTY LOW

Dear Low: Sounds as if your mother and dad could use a little counseling. They weren't much help to you — like none at all.

I suggest you postpone your wedding plans for a year. You're only 20 — where's the fire? Date others and make comparisons. And when you decide what you want to do, don't poll your parents for opinions.

Dear Ann Landers: Several years ago I read that Japanese people do not snore because of the traditional pillow they use. It is a block of wood four to six inches in height, and the person rests his head on it in such a way that the head is tilted back and snoring cannot occur. At least this is the way I heard it.

I have not asked my husband to try it because he does not snore. Will you try it, Ann, and let us know if it works? — G. A.

Dear G. A.: I don't snore, either. However, I hope someone out there (perhaps one of my readers of the Asahi Evening News in Tokyo) will let us know if it works.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cliffs' Munising Sawmill

Being Greatly Enlarged

Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. said today that construction currently underway to enlarge its Forrest Center sawmill near Munising will increase the annual capacity of the mill from 16 million board feet of lumber to 24 million. In addition kiln drying capacity will be doubled.

The mill, completed in 1962, has recently been operating on a 2-shift basis to produce hardwood lumber from sawlogs harvested, for the most part, on Cliffs' own forest lands in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

The expanded facilities will provide employment for an additional 20-odd people resulting in a total work force of about 100 employees.

Cliffs also stated that the construction, scheduled for completion in the spring of 1969, has necessitated the dismantling of the pilot plant built to test the commercial feasibility of a unique process to produce activated carbon from the waste output of the sawmill — chips bark, and sawdust.

The pilot plant, completed early in 1967, has been testing a process developed shortly before World War II by Dr. Harold Funk of Salzburg, Austria and Murray Hill, New Jersey, in conjunction with Dr. Paula Sarten, also of Salzburg.

Cliffs is now finishing research on results obtained at the pilot plant; reviewing technical data; and running quality checks on the activated carbon produced, prior to a decision on the next phase. Any additional testing, if required, will be carried out at Cliffs Research Laboratory in Ishpeming.

Employees at the pilot plant have been offered employment at other Cliffs operations.

One of the major current uses for activated carbon is municipal water purification. With the current strong governmental interest in water and air pollution, activated carbon has an exciting future. Other important uses for activated carbon include purification of sugar refining liquors, regeneration of dry cleaning fluids, industrial water purification, gas and air purification, and various chemical and drug applications. In recent years, consumption of activated carbon in the United States has been growing at about 10 per cent per year.

CLASSIFIED ADS COST LITTLE BUT DO A BIG JOB

War's End Will Affect Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—The Vietnam bombing cessation brings to the forefront an important domestic question: What would the end of the war mean for the nation's economy?

In strictly financial terms, it is clear that in spite of the deep divisions created by disagreement over the war most Americans have greatly improved their standard of living in the past few years—some because of war-related jobs.

It is also clear that the energies required to stop the Communists in Vietnam at least indirectly diverted some resources from domestic projects such as housing, pollution control and education.

If the Vietnam war is ended, these projects are expected to fill the slack in economic demand and to be the spur to more jobs and further expansion of the economy.

Those who have long studied these problems but without the means to do all they wished to resolve them, regard a real improvement in living conditions as a key to more amicable, less tense human relations to a more spiritually solvent America.

Could Lower Taxes
The ending of the war would, in itself, be a spur to some segments of business. Thousands of young men released to civilian life with bank accounts could help push automobile sales to an alltime high.

It could also mean lower taxes, an opportunity to balance spending with income, reduce inflation. It could mean the opportunity for the federal government to share revenues with hard-pressed states. It could provide the opportunity to begin in earnest the exploration of the oceans, and to spur space studies.

It is partly for these reasons that some businessmen are among the most enthusiastic supporters of a de-escalation. In fact, the literature of business—the magazines, investment letters, economic advisories—is full of the subject.

As do supporters of political candidates, many in the investment community attest to this desire for peace by rallying behind a slogan, this one being "Peace is bullish."

And, like followers of a candidate, their enthusiasm tends to obscure the blemishes. Although peace may be bullish, the bull, so to speak, has warts. There are those who might not share in the good times. And adjustments lie ahead also.

Save $30 Billion
First, the peace dividend, the money that is expected to be saved by an end to the war. Some put this figure at $30 billion a year, the very amount which it costs now to prosecute the war. But Charles Schultze, former budget director, feels the amount might be only half that. Some might be retained by the military.

Another blemish is jobs. A study by the Chamber of Commerce, released earlier this year, estimates that between 1 million and 1.4 million jobs have resulted from the war buildup. So there would be adjustment problems in this area if the war ends.

The study found that serious employment problems could result from a big military spending cutback, especially in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Missouri, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Virginia.

Stonewall Jackson, Confederate general of the Civil War, died as a result of wounds from his own side's gunfire.

To Our Fellow Citizens Of Delta & Schoolcraft Counties

In 1967, the Michigan Legislature, by Public Act No. 6, and with the welfare of the people of Michigan in mind, put all of Michigan on Eastern Standard Time. A very small minority of the people have petitioned to put this Act of the Legislature on the ballot for November 5, 1968.

As locally elected representatives of the People, we endorse the action of our elected officials in Lansing, who after careful consideration, saw the practical advantage of putting the entire State on one time. They made Eastern Standard Time the official Michigan Time, not because of tradition, but because their studies indicated that this was the logical time for the entire State. It is the opinion of the undersigned that the vast majority of the citizens of our State agree with the State Legislature and our local officials.

Unfortunately, the issue has become confused, and for this reason, a large number of people do not know how to express their feelings on the time issue as it will be presented on the November 5th ballot.

We urge a "NO" vote on proposal No. 2 because this will unify the State and because it is our opinion that this is the practical time for our area. This observation is strengthened by the fact that for over 20 years, we have operated without confusion or complaint on Eastern Standard Time.

A "NO" vote on Proposal No. 2 will help insure that the official time of the State will be Eastern Standard Time, the time on which we have operated for over 20 years, and the time that the Michigan Legislature has designated as official State time.

Detroit Displays 'Wall Of Pride'

DETROIT (AP)—In the heart of Detroit's black ghetto, blocks from the center of 1967's devastating riot, stands a large mural on a brick wall, featuring bold black faces against a colorful background.

Local residents call it the "Wall of Pride."

Painted on the triangular brick side of Grace Episcopal Church, faces of black militants H. Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael join that of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. in peering out over the shabby neighborhood.

"The Wall says to the people on the streets something which they do not hear inside the church," says the Rev. Marshall Hunt, the church's white pastor. "It speaks of beauty where there is bleakness."

Also suspended above the cluttered vacant lots and decaying brick and frame buildings at the corner of Twelfth Street and Virginia Park is the figure of slave-rebellion leader Nat Turner encouraging other slaves to revolt.

Deposed World Heavyweight Boxing Champion Muhammed Ali stands with arms folded against his shiny brown chest. Kenya President Jomo Kenyatta, once jailed by British colonizers, holds his staff of office on the Wall of Pride. Two African women, a Zulu warrior and stately Egyptians are clustered near the triangle's apex.

Also there are Detroit pop singer Aretha Franklin, actor Bill Cosby, author James Baldwin and militant playwright LeRoy Jones.

"We took a definite risk in doing the wall," the 36-year-old pastor says. "It is paradoxical that the further the church reaches into the community, the more you are apt to be misunderstood."

"You either retrench or stay out there where the nitty gritty, misunderstanding and human feelings are," he added. "We decided to make our move into the community with the wall."

The mural, costing $900, was financed by money set aside by the Episcopal Church for urban projects. It was designed by Bill Walker and Eugene Edaw of Chicago, who also worked on the "Wall of Respect" on Chicago's South Side and the "Wall of Dignity" on Detroit's East Side.

Royalty Enters Old Car Parade

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco have driven a 1903 De Dion Bouton automobile from London to Brighton in an annual run for old cars.

About 250 cars took part Sunday in the "old crocks" run which commemorates the lifting of the 3-m.p.h. speed limit for horseless carriages in 1896.

Prince Rainier drove the whole 50 miles, but the princess retreated to a closed car for part of the route.

"I found it very cold," she said, "I suppose I cheated a little bit."

Tremors Source Is Still Unknown

By The Associated Press

Whatever caused a rash of earth tremor reports across a wide swath of Michigan and neighboring Canada remains a secret.

But a possible explanation came Friday from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio, which reported it had a supersonic F4C Phantom II jet engaged in low-level, high-speed vibration and acoustical tests over Lake Huron about the time the tremors are reported to have occurred Thursday.

The Air Force said, however, its plane pulled up from its low-level, high-speed run at a point 40 miles from the nearest shore and that normally the broadcast sonic boom waves reach only 25 miles.

Reports of apparent earth tremors were scattered over 120 miles, from London, Ont., to Flint, Mich. No one reported a boom accompanying the apparent tremors.

Wright-Patterson said tests similar to those of Thursday have been noticeable on Thursday same Lake Huron area for the last two years and had no explanation why vibration should have been noticeable on Thursday's flight at 1,000 feet in the middle of the lake, 40 miles from shore.

No injuries or damages were reported from any of the areas from which apparent tremors were reported.

Ins. in the Scientific and Technological Institute at Willow Run Airport, outside Detroit, showed no trace of earth tremors.

Dr. David Willis, an official of the laboratories which are affiliated with the University of Michigan, said such tremors as were reported would have registered on the institute's sensitive instruments, but they showed nothing.

"I think the only thing that it could have been was a sonic boom," Willis said before it became known that Wright-Patterson was testing over Lake Huron.

Selridge Air Force Base, near Mount Clemens, said none of its planes were over Lake Huron at the time, and a spokesman expressed the opinion that if the apparent tremors had been caused by a plane's breaking the sound barrier there would have been a sonic boom.

Campaigner In Copter Plunge

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr.'s helicopter plunged about 30 feet to the ground Sunday as it was approaching a rally in his campaign for governor.

Moore addressed the crowd briefly, saying he was "glad to be standing here," before he was taken by ambulance to Charleston General Hospital.

Doctors said the Republican candidate had three rib fractures, a bruise on his right leg, cuts on both hands and his right leg and a possible ruptured left calf muscle.

The chartered helicopter carrying Moore, West Virginia's 1st District congressman, and three others crashed about 2 p.m. on the high school football field at Hamlin, about 30 miles southwest of Charleston.

An estimated crowd of 300 persons saw the accident.

The helicopter fell after hitting a flag pole while apparently trying to avoid some high tension wires. Spectators said the craft hit a car as it landed.

Dennis Knapp, Kanawha County Common Pleas Court judge and the GOP candidate for the West Virginia Supreme Court, also was hospitalized with a broken collarbone.

The other two persons aboard—Lou Wells, of Gaithersburg, Md., the pilot, and Jack Stafford of Princeton, a GOP campaign worker—were injured slightly.

Sermon Brings Small Walkout

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The reading of an official diocesan letter urging Catholics to vote against candidates espousing racism was disrupted by a walkout of about a dozen persons from the Visitation Catholic Church Sunday.

The letter by Bishop Charles H. Helmsing of the Kansas City-St. Joseph Diocese was read before a morning Mass. After the Mass, several persons distributed literature for third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace in front of the church.

Tourism To Get Business Casing

More than 200 persons are expected to attend the conference on industrial development of recreational resources in Marquette Nov. 7 and 8, sponsored by the Ninth Federal Reserve Bank, through its Upper Midwest Research and Development Council.

An audience representative of the industrial and financial interests of Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula will attend the 2-day sessions at the Holiday Inn.

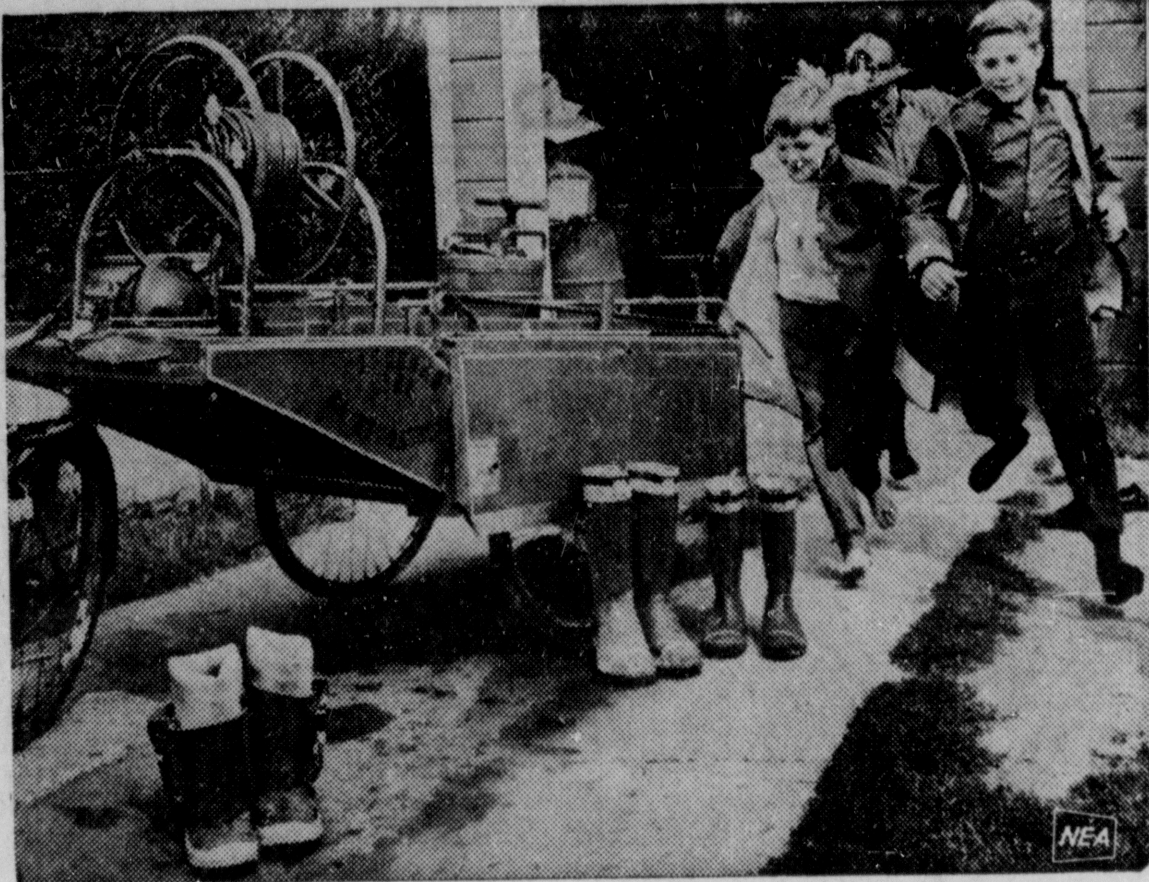

This is the first conference in the Upper Peninsula on industrial development of tourist complexes. In the past, there has been stress on the kind of resources in the Upper Peninsula that might be attractive to tourists rather than what might be most profitable to the business community in a development program.

Officials of the council have attracted authorities on the various phases of recreation business development.

Hugh Galusha, president of the Ninth Federal Reserve Bank, Minneapolis, will be one of the participants in the Friday meetings on financing and will close the afternoon meeting with a summary of the sessions.

Representatives of national parks, development councils, mortgage and guaranty companies and recreational industries will participate, along with officials of economic development districts and the Small Business Administration.

Nepal's National Park and Wildlife Sanctuary contains rhinos, tigers, leopards, wild elephants, bears, deer, antelopes, gaurs, crocodiles, fresh-water porpoises, manatees, otters and a rich array of bird life.

DEMONSTRATING civic responsibility, John Lanier, 10; Richard Geib, 15; and Jerry Chrz-anowski, 14, (from the left) rush to answer a fire alarm. The trio is part of the six-member Waukegan (Ill.) Fire Safety Patrol which has responded to hundreds of calls — mostly grass fires. Equipment includes a bicycle-trailer "fire truck," pike pole, hose reel, hand pump and two chemical extinguishers.

Firebomb Car Of Wallace Backer

PORT HURON (AP) — A 1964 car owned by the manager of the Port Huron office promoting third-party candidate George Wallace for president was destroyed by a firebomb early Sunday, Wallace officials said.

Dean Cunningham, head of the Wallace efforts in Port Huron, said the car destroyed belonged to Daniel Schneider, the office manager. It was parked outside the office at the time.

"We must think it is the violent reaction to Mr. Wallace's plea for law and order and certainly an example of why we need him," said Cunningham.

He said firemen were summoned to extinguish the blaze. No arrests were reported.

Saleslady At 90 Years Old

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If your image of a door-to-door salesman is a brash young man with his foot in the door, you obviously haven't met Mrs. M. N. Lallie Keele.

Mrs. Keele sells spices, tea and other household items in south Louisville.

She was 90 years old Sunday. Mrs. Keele has been at it, on her own, since her husband died 19 years ago. Before that, she helped him with his route.

"I don't do much soliciting any more," she remarks. "But I still do all my own delivering. If you need anything, just call and I'll bring it over."

Her territory is more than one-half mile long and one-third mile wide. She covers it on foot several times a week—after she reaches it. She lives in another salesman's territory and walks to work.

"I never learned to drive a car," says Mrs. Keele.

Her husband was a Baptist preacher who did part time jobs to make ends meet. They reared six children, and their offspring are now in the fourth generation.

Still ruler-straight at age 90, Mrs. Keele lives alone in a five-room home, asking for and receiving no help in keeping it up.

MSU Trustees Make Car Deal: Reports Journal

LANSING (AP) — Several Democratic members of the Michigan State University board of trustees have purchased cars in the University's name to avoid paying sales tax, the Lansing State Journal reported Friday.

Philip J. May, vice president for sales and finances, said several trustees purchased several late model autos from a local dealer and paid $500 with the balance recorded as "payable," the Journal stated.

The cars were returned at the end of the year and the accounts were marked "paid." No university monies were involved, May told the Journal.

"But I believe these men used their elected positions for personal gain," May said. "After all, how many people can drive away in a new car for $500 a year?"

May said no Republican trustees were involved in the car arrangement nor was Democratic trustee C. Allen Harlan, the Journal reported. The newspaper added that some of the trustees have returned the cars acquired under the special arrangement.

Wallace Drops 4 Pct. In State

DETROIT (AP) — Thousands of persons turned out in Michigan last week to give their favorite presidential candidate one last hurrah before the election is decided Tuesday in the quiet privacy of the voting booth.

Each of the three major presidential candidates returned to Michigan in hopes of winning the state's 21 electoral votes into his column. Many political observers regard Michigan as a tossup, a state that could swing to either Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey or Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Both Humphrey and Nixon urged supporters to work hard in the waning days of the campaign to boost their respective candidacies.

A Detroit News poll published Sunday indicated that Humphrey had made impressive gains late in the campaign and would carry Michigan.

The poll gave Humphrey 44 per cent of the vote, with Nixon getting 41 per cent. Third party candidate George Wallace received 12 per cent in the final poll—a drop from 16 per cent in early October. Three per cent of the voters were undecided.

Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew was the last of the national aspirants to visit Michigan; he held a Muskegon rally Sunday night.

Retired Gen. Curtis LeMay, running mate of Wallace, was the only major candidate who did not appear in the state. Scheduled to visit Saginaw Saturday, LeMay canceled the visit at the last moment because of reported plane trouble.

Humphrey stressed the economic record of the Democrats since 1960 during his campaign appearances in the state, apparently in hopes of dissuading blue collar workers from voting for Wallace.

Nixon reminded supporters former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, ended one war and kept the nation at peace. Under Johnson, he added, the nation has been at war.

An estimated 3.4 million voters are expected to cast ballots in Tuesday's election. Polls close in Michigan at 8:00 and 9:00 p.m. because the state lies in two time zones.

Powers-Spalding Government Program

The campaigns of the three presidential candidates and the upcoming election Nov. 5 were the subjects discussed this week by the 12th grade students of Mr. Thomas Lequia.

Mrs. Frank Neumeier, a League of Women voters member, spoke to the class on the national election providing information on the ballot and the electoral college. A question and answer session followed.

A mock election will be this week with the junior and senior students participating.

MIGRATING BIRDS: A HAZARD TO AIRCRAFT

PILOTS HAVE BEEN ALERTED to the collision hazard posed by ducks, geese, swans and other large waterfowl during the fall and spring migrating seasons, according to the Federal Aviation Administration. The FAA report notes that more than 10 million birds will be on the move this fall in the Mississippi Flyway, an area extending from the Dakotas to Pennsylvania and south to the Gulf of Mexico from Texas to Florida. Fortunately, the study notes, most birds migrate at night when air traffic is at a minimum. Another favorable factor for pilots is that migrating birds fly at relatively low altitudes. Map shows density patterns of migrating birds passing through the flyway.

Nab Last Man In Drug Operation

PORTAGE (AP) — The last of four persons arrested Friday in connection with an hallucinatory drug manufacturing plant in Portage was arraigned Saturday.

Arrested in Portage Municipal Court was Gary Cohen, 19, of East Lansing. He was charged with conspiracy to manufacture, possess or sell drugs. He demanded examination which was set for Nov. 22.

Others arrested were Michael Weisman, 23, and his 22-year-old wife, Ellen, and Steven Boschka, 24, all of Kalamazoo. They were arraigned on identical charges Friday and all demanded examinations which were set for Nov. 8.

Cohen posted $10,000 bond.

Federal authorities said the drug operation was the biggest in Michigan and possibly the biggest in the nation, producing more than $250,000 worth of drugs per week at wholesale rates.

All four were arrested early Friday morning. Cohen was arrested in East Lansing by Ingham County authorities and the other three were arrested in Portage.

Voted 80 Years

RUSSELL, Kan. (AP) — Dave Grove will be voting in his 21st presidential election Tuesday. He was 101 Oct. 27.

Grove said he voted the first time in 1888 for Benjamin Harrison. In his 80 years as a voter, he said he has picked 10 presidential winners, and 10 losers, all Republicans.

Romney Urges 'Clear Mandate'

LANSING (AP) — In a last minute pre-election statement Sunday, Gov. George Romney urged the nation's voters to "help give Richard Nixon a clear mandate to govern and to lead."

Romney, a Republican who has been stumping for Nixon, praised the GOP presidential nominee and also urged voters not to cast protest ballots for minor-party candidates.

"A vote for George Wallace is a vote for Hubert Humphrey in disguise," Romney said. "It is a vote for the very policies that caused the protest. So is a vote for Eldridge Cleaver or any other of the other protest candidates. And so is a vote which is not cast."

Cleaver, information minister for the Black Panthers, is the presidential candidate of the New Politics Party.

Romney said it is impossible for Humphrey to win a plurality of the nation's popular votes. "The best he can hope for is a deadlock in the Electoral College and a brokered election there or in the House of Representatives," he said.

"Such a victory would make the presidency a tarnished responsibility," Romney said. "It could destroy Humphrey's already compromised capacity to lead the people and govern the nation. It would invite disaster."

Romney, who said he was striving "to avoid narrow partisanship or selfish self-interest," added: "I state my profound conviction, without regard to partisanship, that the election of Richard Nixon is the best choice to avoid greater problems in the future."

They are required to act by Dec. 1 of this year.

Our Town Somewhere between EST and CST

Dear Stefanie:

Well, I must say that I've never gotten a letter back from you as fast as your last one. You really are interested in what's going on here, aren't you?

Can't blame you, though. That bus business really stirred everybody up. And now that the buses are rolling again over 1300 miles each day, more than 1,300 children are again riding free to school. Believe me, there is no household more appreciative of those buses than this one, what with the kids going to three different schools now. (My "Idle Hour" taxi service would never have survived the neighborhood melee).

Well, here's hoping that the people have been stirred enough to keep interested in their schools and work for them. The state auditors (Remember the zillions of papers and figures I wrote you about) have proven, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that the books are in tip-top shape and also that the schools do need money. So, tomorrow is election day and we shall see how the reasoning goes this time. Keep your fingers crossed.

In spite of all the attention given other factors, some progress is still being made. The building and site program begun in 1966 is nearing completion with playground equipment, fencing, and lawn areas springing up at the new construction sites. And what an improvement — green lawns and sidewalks around the new schools. Now for a shrub or two, here and there.

Probably one of the most exciting occasions for the kids and for me was the beginning of the lunch program in the schools (The peanut butter industry will suffer this year). It's exciting for the kids because they have a choice of hamburger, hot dog, or special of the day, plus potato chips, milk and a choice of pastry, and it's exciting for me because I'm finally rid of lunch pails and thermos bottles (broken and whole). Believe it or not, I had even resorted to flimsy, brown paper bags just for a little variety. What an ordeal!

Yes, I've decided — Happiness is (for me, anyway) school buses and school lunches.

Sound selfish? It is.

And I'm selfish about education, too, because, in reality, Happiness is knowing that my kids will be socially, intellectually, spiritually and emotionally equipped to live a happy life in their world. Thank God for our schools. I couldn't do it alone.

Hope your cold is better. Shall be looking forward to your next letter.

Love, Pat

SHEEP SHEARING may become a lost art if tests being conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture prove conclusive. At left, Joyce Asher of Aurora, Mo., uses traditional cutters during a Girl Scout project, but at right, a USDA technician grabs a handful of wool and, rolling his wrist quickly along the skin, easily defleeces a sheep which has been treated chemically. Shearing with clippers is a highly skilled task calling for wages of about $12 an hour. A nonspecialist drawing about $2.50 an hour can learn quickly to remove fleeces from chemically treated sheep. Further studies are necessary to determine whether chemical defleecing is economically practical and whether it causes chemical residues in the meat, alters wool growth or quality, or harms sheep exposed to heat and cold.

PATRIOTIC MUSIC will be featured Wednesday night by a 40-voice choir from Milwaukee in a concert at Immanuel Lutheran Church. Part of the choir is pictured here in a previous concert in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee Choir To Sing Here

A 40 voice Negro Choir from Milwaukee's inner city will give a "Patriotic Concert" in Escanaba Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Immanuel Lutheran Church, 600 S. 23rd St.

The choir is sponsored by Christ the King Lutheran Church of Escanaba with the cooperation of Protestant and Catholic churches of the area who are providing housing.

The choir is composed of high school students who live in the area of Resurrection Lutheran (LCA) Church of Milwaukee. The choir has appeared at churches in Milwaukee and outlying area and is directed by Sue Lackey, a school and church choir director.

Rev. Erland Carlson, pastor at Christ the King, said the choir will sing patriotic musical selections with intermittent readings by members of the choir. Some choir selections are: a variety from "Exodus," "Born Free," "If I Had a Hammer," "What Color is God's Skin?" "Up With People Melody" and others.

The concert will last about 75 minutes.

The group of 40 teen-agers will be traveling for four days during the Wisconsin Teacher's Convention.

Tickets will be available on a first come, first served basis on Wednesday night at the church. The public is invited to attend.

Housing for choir members is still needed and residents willing to provide housing Wednesday night and breakfast Thursday morning should phone Rev. Carlson at 786-7988 as soon as possible. Choir guests can be picked up following the concert.

Thursday morning the choir will sing at the Gladstone High School.

Poll Disorder Scare Discounted

U.S. Attorney Harold D. Beaton, commenting on recent statewide wild rumors of possible disruptive incidents, including bombings, at some Michigan polling places Tuesday, said:

"While the general supervision of elections, including the maintaining of order at all of the polls in Michigan is a state responsibility, there are specific federal election laws relating to such elections, and the Department of Justice will promptly investigate any reported violations."

Beaton said "I have serious doubts as to the validity of these 'scare' stories. I think it singularly coincidental that they appeared around Halloween."

Rock

The Rock School Band presented a concert at National Mine last week. Other bands participating were National Mine and Channing.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lund have returned from a two week vacation in Oregon and Idaho. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Orval (Joyce) Lanco and family in Kellogg, Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lund and family in Portland, Ore.

Gladstone, Escanaba Both Report September Gains

September bank debits — a business volume indicator — credited Escanaba with a gain of 20 per cent while Marquette suffered a loss of 10 per cent, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reports.

Marquette traditionally leads all U.P. Cities in business volume as indicated by bank debits (for the most pass checks against depositors accounts for goods, services, debts, etc.) and in September its volume was $33.1 million compared with $25 million for Escanaba.

The relative positions of the two cities will be affected by the industrial surge now taking place in Escanaba, which is expected to reflect the larger spending for payrolls and services in its expanding industries in 1969.

Cumulatively for the January through September period Escanaba had a gain of 9 per cent and Marquette 5 per cent. Part of this gain is inflated values and does not represent an actual gain.

Iron Mountain has now displaced Sault Ste. Marie as the third ranking city of the Upper Peninsula economically, despite its lesser population, because of the Sault's loss of its industrial base and Menominee, has slipped into sixth rank, trailing Houghton, is the September report.

U.P. cities, their debits totals in millions and percentage of gain or loss follow:

Iron Mountain $218.36; Sault Ste. Marie $18.2; 15. Houghton $13.4; 20. Menominee $10.6; 5. Ironwood $9.9; 24. Hancock $9; 8. Ishpeming $8.9; 7. Calumet $8.3; 22. Iron River $7.8; 19. Manistique $6.5; 6. St. Ignace $5.2; 16.

Negaunee $4.9; 10. L'Anse $3.5; 19. Norway $3.9; 7. Gladstone $3.4; 20. Munising $3.3; -8. Crystal Falls $2.4; 2. Hermansville $1; 12.

GOP Says Slip Isn't Enough To Elect HHH

to Paris or go to Saigon in order to get negotiations off dead center, I would be glad to go," Nixon said.

Not As A Stunt

"... President Johnson and president-elect Nixon could knock out the idea that Hanoi is going to gain from the negotiating table what they cannot gain from the battlefield," he said.

"Let me make one thing clear, I don't suggest this as a grandstand stunt," said Nixon. "I don't know that it will be helpful."

Nixon said the Paris talks should go on, despite the reluctance of the South Vietnamese government to send a delegation to the bargaining table.

But he also expressed doubt that the President would have halted the bombing of North Vietnam Friday "if he had expected the backlash from Saigon."

"I think President Johnson thoroughly expected the Saigon government would attend," the Republican said.

Humphrey, also interviewed on a Sunday TV program, said he believes Saigon will ultimately take part in the peace negotiations.

"I think we must depend on the good sense of the government of South Vietnam to attend and participate," he said.

Two-Hour Telecast

"After all, the American people have paid a very heavy price in men and material and many other ways for the defense of South Vietnam and I think it's fair to expect that government will respond to the sacrifices we've made."

Humphrey appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers." Both Humphrey and Nixon planned two-hour, election-eve telecasts from Los Angeles tonight.

Then they planned to head home to await the decision; Humphrey to Waverly, Minn., Nixon to his adopted base in New York City.

Wallace, finishing his campaign in the South, which has provided the base of his strength, repeated Sunday his belief that he will win.

The former Alabama governor's running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, voiced doubts about the effects of the bombing halt.

"It looks like another stalling" by the North Vietnamese "to allow them to recover from their losses in the South," he said.

Crowd Largest

Both Wallace and LeMay appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers," in a separate segment following Humphrey.

President Johnson campaigned at Humphrey's side for the first time Sunday, appealing for votes for his vice president before some 58,000 people in Houston's Astrodome.

It was perhaps the largest crowd assembled for a session of political oratory during the campaign, and Johnson gave it to them.

"For the sake of our American union, this man... should become the 37th president of the United States."

Nixon renewed a repeated challenge to Humphrey to join him in pledging presidential support to the candidate who receives the largest share of Tuesday's popular vote.

City May Ask Fee For County, School Taxes

The City of Escanaba collects county and school taxes for the county and the schools and turns them over without making a change for its services — but this may change if the City Council feels a collection fee is justified.

The consideration of charging a collection fee for county and school taxes is one of the items on the agenda for the Council meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the City Hall.

City Manager George Harvey said other business to come before the Council will include: Appointment of a member to the Planning Commission to fill a vacancy; report and recommendation on the purchase of two jeep trucks and on bids for a heavy duty truck; and authorization to permit a breaking of the curb at 1604 Sheridan Road.

The proposal to establish a parking violation bureau in the City Hall in connection with the new Delta District Court; and a report and recommendation on bids for water and sewer extension into the industrial park are also on the agenda.

Interested persons are to contact the Midway.

Ford River Cub Scout Pack 430, Dens 1 and 2 and Webelos, Den 1 made Halloween treat cups for the children at St. Francis Hospital and also had a costume party at their pack meeting held last week.

Water Bonding Would Aid U.P. Communities

Michigan's Clean Water bonding program, if approved by voters of the state Tuesday, will allow Upper Peninsula communities to plan, design and construct wastewater treatment facilities needed to restore and protect lakes and streams, according to the Michigan Health Dept.

The $335 million bond issue will be considered as Proposal 3 on the ballot.

If approved, it will provide $285 million to help finance needed construction on waste water treatment facilities and an additional $50 million for sewer construction loans to communities where sewers are needed because the community is contributing to pollution.

The bond issue will provide funds to pay half the cost of needed municipal wastewater treatment facilities and another quarter of the cost will be provided by the federal government, leaving only one quarter of the cost to be covered by local funds.

During the past 15 years, most communities have constructed facilities to treat wastes before discharging them into lakes and streams, the Health Dept. reported. Today, however, these facilities are not capable of providing the protection necessary to maintain lakes and streams in a condition whereby all intended uses are protected.

"In order to restore Michigan's degrading waters and protect them, it will be necessary to construct 210 new wastewater treatment plants and to make improvements to 126 existing plants by 1980," the Health Dept. said.

"There are 25 Upper Peninsula wastewater treatment plants that will need improvements to meet the water quality standards. Additional facilities in the way of new sewers and wastewater treatment facilities are needed in 45 other U.P. communities. Further, most communities will need to separate storm water from combined sewer systems to meet the water quality standards."

A total of 32 projects could begin in the near future, if bond issue financing is approved, the Health Dept. reported. Estimated cost of the projects in 1967 was $19.6 million. Other projects would take longer to develop.

Projects indicated near "ready to go" if state and federal financing is available in the Upper Peninsula are:

Collection and Treatment Allouez Township, Baraga, Bates Township, Bergland Township, Bessemer Township, Brevort Township, Chassell Township, Chatham, Chocoma Township, Clark Township, Crystal Falls, Escanaba, Forsythe Township, Greenland Township, Lake Linden, Laurium, Marenisco, Marquette, Masonville Township, Powell Township, Powers, Rudyard Township, Sagola Township, and St. Ignace.

Treatment: Alpha, Bessemer, Copper City, McMillan Township, Norway, Norway Township, and St. Ignace.

Collection: Munising, Portage Township.

Wolverines Turn Dreams To Nightmares Saturday

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The theme Northwestern students chose for their homecoming game and related activities was, "Wish again, Michigan." But after the game the only ones wishing were the Wildcats—wishing they never came home.

Michigan's Wolverines turned Northwestern's homecoming dreams into nightmares Saturday by rolling to a 35-0 Big Ten football victory. It was Michigan's sixth win in seven decisions and fourth without a loss in the Big Ten, good for a first place tie with Ohio State, which Michigan plays on the last game of the season. Northwestern's record is 1-6.

"Michigan is without question a good football team," said Wildcat coach Alex Agase. "Unfortunately for us, we made it easy for them in that nightmarish last few minutes of the second quarter. But, again, they capitalized on opportunities and that is the mark of a good football team."

And so it was. The Wolverines, with the aid of their defense, shocked the 40,101 fans at Dwyer Stadium into disbelief in the second quarter by scoring four touchdowns in seven minutes including one on a 50-yard run of a pass interception by 235-pound sophomore tackle Dan Parks.

"When I grabbed the ball I didn't try to set up any blocks or anything," Parks said, "I just wanted to run for the goal."

Junior defensive halfback Tom Curtis stole two Northwestern passes in the quarter, one of them to set up a touchdown. He boosted his conference steals to seven to tie a Big Ten record and has picked off 15 opponent passes in two years.

Halfback sensation Ron Johnson ran his season point total to 60 as he bulled his way for two touchdowns in the period on runs of three and five yards, while the other score came on a four-yard pass from quarterback Dennis Brown to end Billy Harris.

Johnson, a top All-America candidate who is also the team captain, picked up a game total of 129 yards rushing in 24 attempts. He thus surpassed a Michigan record for career carries set by Tom Harmon 28 years ago (406). Johnson now has 416. His rushing yardage gave him 1,951 career yards to put him in second place on the all-time Wolverine list behind Bob Westfall (1,859).

The second team ran the show for Michigan in the fourth quarter. The only score of the second half came when halfback Bob Kieta intercepted a Northwestern pass at the Michigan 24 and ran it back to the Wildcat 45. Five plays later sophomore halfback Lance Sheffler, Johnson's replacement, plunged over from the one for a touchdown. Tim Kilian kicked his third extra point to end the scoring.

Northwestern mounted its only real scoring threat on the next series of downs, moving from its own 28 to the Michigan one on five plays in the closing minutes of the game before Mark Werner intercepted another pass for Michigan.

It was a frustrating day for Wildcat quarterbacks Dave Shelbourne and Dana Wood-

Lakers Trample Expansion Team

By The Associated Press

The expansion Phoenix Suns don't figure to win many games against the Los Angeles Lakers and Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, and now it turns out they can't beat the Lakers with Chamberlain and West gone.

That's the disappointment that confronted the Suns Sunday night when Chamberlain left to attend his father's funeral and West was out with a leg injury. The Lakers still bombed the Suns 127-109 in their National Basketball Association game.

In other games, Boston held off Atlanta 123-103, the New York Knicks crushed Seattle 122-108 and San Diego topped Chicago 121-107.

In the only American Basketball Association contest the New York Mets beat Kentucky 112-103.

Baylor took up the scoring slack and everything else for the Lakers by scoring 40 points, pulling in 14 rebounds and passing for 12 assists.

Los Angeles led only 53-52 at the half, but then pulled away by outscoring the Suns 36-27 in the third quarter, and to make matters more disappointing for the Suns, the loss was on their home court.

Dick Van Arsdale had a career high 38 points for Phoenix.

John Havlicek came off the bench and scored 28 points for Boston, which jumped to a 20-point first quarter lead and led 62-54 at the half. Zelmo Beaty had 27 points for the Hawks.

San Diego turned a 58-48 half-time lead into a 17-point spread early in the third quarter and never was threatened as Elvin Hayes scored 30 points.

The Knicks jumped to an 8-0 lead and never trailed, although Seattle did pull even once at 59, before falling behind by 19. Cazzie Russell led the Knicks with 35 points.

Dan Anderson's basket put the Nets ahead 78-77 and they followed with six more points for an 84-77 spread. Kentucky never got closer than two again. Lavern Tart had 36 points for the Nets and Darel Carrier 33 for the Colonels.

In the NBA Saturday night, Detroit overcame New York 112-104, Milwaukee edged San Francisco 102-101, Cincinnati turned back Philadelphia 119-113 and Seattle upended Chicago 101-95. Boston at Baltimore was rescheduled for a later date.

In Saturday night's ABA action, Minnesota whipped New York 130-114, Oakland downed Denver 120-106, Houston outlasted Indiana 102-100, Los Angeles beat New Orleans 108-104 and Miami defeated Kentucky 92-85.

Rangers Extend Victory String Over West Teams

By The Associated Press

The New York Rangers continue to fatten up on expansion opposition but the new teams are a bitter pill for other National Hockey League clubs to swallow.

New York nipped Minnesota 2-1 Sunday night for its seventh straight victory over the West Division this year. But Philadelphia stung Montreal 3-2, completing a weekend sweep of the older East Division for the expansionist Flyers and St. Louis rallied for a 4-4 tie against Detroit.

In Sunday's other games, Boston whipped Chicago 5-3 and Pittsburgh downed Oakland 3-1. Saturday night, it was Philadelphia 3, Toronto 2, Minnesota 2-0 over St. Louis, Montreal 2-1 over Detroit and Los Angeles 3, Pittsburgh 2.

All of the Ranger victories this season have come against the NHL's newer teams and all three New York losses against the older clubs. In two seasons, the Rangers are 2-4 with three ties against the West. Still, Coach Boon Boon Geoffrion is less than ecstatic about his team's play against the new division.

"They get us into bad habits," said Geoffrion, "wandering all over the ice, not staying on our wings. We'll be in trouble if we play that way against our own division."

The six new teams play a more scrambling brand of hockey as opposed to the conventional, positional play most of the older teams use.

The Rangers shelled ex-teammate Cesare Maniago with 43 shots but only two got by him. Those were 71 seconds apart in the first period by Bob Nevin and Dave Balon. Danny Grant scored for Minnesota.

The game was the last one for Wren Blair as coach of the North Stars. John Muckler takes over today with Blair devoting fulltime to the general manager's job.

Camille Henry scored three goals—two of them 19 seconds apart in the third period—to earn St. Louis its tie with Detroit.

Henry's seventh career hat trick erased a 4-2 Detroit lead with his second goal a patented power play deflection and the third the conversion of a pass-out by Ron Harris.

The Flyers stunned Montreal on a 75-foot shot by Jim Johnson that broke a 2-2 tie in the third period. The Canadiens, who had lost just once in their first nine starts, were pressuring Philadelphia goalie Bernie Parent when Johnson broke out of the jam with the puck and lofted his shot at goalie Rogation Vachon.

Vachon caught the long shot, then dropped it and it trickled over the line for the winning goal.

The setback ended a 12-game Montreal winning streak against the new clubs which dated back to March 2 of last season.

Bobby Orr dashed the length of the rink and scored the goal that set off a four-goal Boston rally and carried the Bruins past the Black Hawks.

Orr's second period goal was followed by scores by Eddie Westfall, Gary Doak and Glen Sather against Chicago's Dave Dryden. Bobby Hull scored one goal and assisted on two others for the Black Hawks.

Pittsburgh collected three goals in less than a 3½ minute span in the second period in overcoming a 1-0 Oakland lead. After Bill Hickey scored for the Seals in the opening period, Lou Angotti, Gene Urbacio and Val Fonteyne found the range for the Penguins.

Larry Gura of Arizona State, who allowed just three hits over nine innings, gave up a double to Elías Mira opening the 10th. Mira advanced to third when Gura made an error fielding a gun.

Mickey Knight of Michigan State then came in to pitch and retired one man before Alejandro Miranda squeezed Mira home to win.

Mexico now is 1-0 in the double, round-robin tourney. The United States and Cuba each is 1-1 and Puerto Rico is 0-1.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan's new head basketball coach, John Orr, player on the Taylorville High cage team that won 45 straight games and the Illinois state championship.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams registered a first down in the fourth quarter against Detroit. The crowd of 77,982, largest of the season here for the Rams, thundered an ovation.

The reason: It was the Rams' first first down of the second half. It was also the last.

It was that kind of a National Football League game as Los Angeles hung on to tame the Lions, 10-7.

"In three years this was the most agonizing of them all. I thought the game must have lasted five hours," said Coach George Allen.

Was it a devastating loss? Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt replied, "Any loss is devastating."

The outcome left Los Angeles tied with Baltimore at the top of the Coastal Division, 7-1. It dropped Detroit into a 3-4 tie with Green Bay, behind Chicago and Minnesota, 4-4-0, in the Central Division.

Kick return terror Lem Barney stunned the Rams when he raced 98 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff.

Allen explained why he told his kicker, Bruce Gossett, to give heavy foot to the ball instead of a squib boot.

"I'm kind of a 'squib man,'" said Allen. "But I felt it would be taken as a negative play after our loss to Baltimore last week which I didn't want. So I told Bruce to kick the hell out of the ball."

"After 98 yards, I'm back to being a 'squib man.'"

Roman Gabriel's 36-yard scoring bullet to Willie Ellison tied the score in the first quarter and Gossett's 37-yard field goal with four seconds left in the half provided the winning margin.

Ex-Ram quarterback Bill Munson then kept Los Angeles in nervous anxiety in the final two quarters while such old pro as Wayne Walker, Alex Karras and Joe Robb put the heat on the Rams' offense.

Gabriel was unable to complete a pass in the last half and the Rams' total offensive yardage for the final 30 minutes was 41.

Both teams were hurt through injuries. Detroit's leading rusher, Mel Farr, didn't even suit up. The Rams' running back regulars, Dick Bass and Tommy Mason, did not play. And tight end Billy Truax went out after the first half.

It also saw the end of Percival's string of successful field goals — which reached 10 with his 10-yarder in the second period. Sayers' longest run of the day—his 63-yarder—gave Percival his opportunity, which supplied the Bears with a 3-0 lead.

Sayers, moving wide from his own 28, turned the corner, momentarily stumbled, regained his footing, sidestepped a covey of tacklers near midfield, hit the Packer 40, cut to the inside and turned on the speed.

Willie Wood finally caught him from the side at the Packer nine.

Buckeyes Top Spartans To Remain Undefeated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The record partisan crowd of 84,859 in Ohio State's huge horseshoe-shaped stadium thoroughly enjoyed the Buckeye 25-20 football beating of Michigan State Saturday at Columbus.

But for the scattering of Spartan fans in the stands it was like watching a rerun of an old, bad movie.

"We beat ourselves again," was the terse summing-up by MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty.

Michigan State managed the loss by giving away the ball seven times—four on lost fumbles and three on pass interceptions.

"You can't do that against a team like Ohio State and expect to win," Daugherty admitted. "We thought we had a chance to win but we gave the game away."

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes was gracious in victory, calling Michigan State the strongest he has met so far this season.

Explaining his game Saturday, Hayes said he planned to cross up the Spartans by passing instead of running on most first downs.

Ohio State did just that and netted 215 yards passing. Michigan State gained 137 yards rushing to 134 yards by Ohio State. Making four touchdowns to MSU's three, Ohio State remained unbeaten this season.

The Buckeyes also remain the main challenge to Michigan for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid.

The Ohio State Defense rushed Triplett so hard he was held to minus 18 yards rushing. In previous games, Triplett has been among the leading Spartan rushers. Charlie Wedemeyer was the top rusher with his 717 yards and tailback Tommy Love gained 59 yards.

The Spartan defense suffered when linebacker Rich Saul was knocked out of the game by an injury in the second period.

Saul suffered a torn knee ligament that will require surgery and keep him on the sidelines for the remainder of the season.

Michigan State staged a 71-yard touchdown drive in the second quarter, then sent Triplett over the last yard for a touchdown.

Triplett engineered two more touchdown drives in the third quarter. A Triplett pass complete to end Frank Foreman for 13 yards accounted for one score. Love threw himself from the six-inch line for the third MSU touchdown.

Michigan State couldn't get within striking distance of the Ohio State goal in the final period. Toward the end of the game, the Buckeyes played possession ball to protect their one-touchdown lead and ran out the clock.

Raiders Upend Chiefs Using Passing Attack

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Chiefs, who made a big run at the American Football League's Western Division title two weeks ago, now find the Oakland Raiders making a serious pass at it.

It was two weeks ago that the Chiefs, using a tight T formation and throwing only three passes, ground under the defending AFL champion Raiders and took the division lead.

With their backs against the wall—a loss would have put them two games behind Kansas City—the Raiders took to the air against a more balanced Chiefs' attack and cruised to a 38-21 victory last Sunday to all but even the race.

Darryl Lamonica was their passing fancy, connecting on 18 of 32 throws for a whopping 352 yards and two touchdowns when Oakland's running attack ground to a halt.

San Diego also relied on a game of pitch and catch for a last quarter 34-28 victory over Miami to keep up with Oakland.

The Raiders and Chargers are 6-2 behind Kansas City's 7-2.

In the Eastern Division, Jim Turner put a kick in the New York Jets' runaway hopes by booting a record-tying six field goals—the last two in the final 3½ minutes—for a 25-21 decision over Buffalo.

The victory maintained the Jets' 2½ game lead over Houston, which whipped Cincinnati 27-17, and three game bulge over Boston, a 35-14 victim of Denver in the other game.

With its running game only able to produce 70 yards, Oakland stuck with Lamonica before he left with an injured knee in the third quarter. He threw for 297 yards in the first half, including a 29-yard scoring pass to Warren Wells to open the scoring.

His passing then set up 24 points in the decisive second quarter for a 31-7 halftime lead. A 29-yarder to Wells and a 41-yard toss to Hewitt Dixon set up two short scoring runs by Pete Banaszak and an 82-yard pass play to Fred Biletnikoff set up a George Blanda field goal.

Lamonica ran four yards for another score and then passed 17 yards to Billy Cannon for the finale in the third quarter.

San Diego had its hands full against the Dolphins and trailed 21-17 until Lance Alworth latched onto scoring passes of 23 yards from Jim Allison and three yards from John Hadl.

A field goal made it 34-21 before Bob Griese threw his third touchdown pass for Miami in the final minutes.

Johnny Sample gave the struggling Jets their only touchdown by sprinting 36 yards with an intercepted pass for a 10-7

Books Donated As Memorials

"Take A Tip From Me" by Jack Nicklaus has been presented to the Manistique School and Public Library as a memorial to the late Peter Stammess.

The new publication, presented by family friends, is a harvest of invaluable tips, one golf point at a time, explained by a man who has dominated the game in recent years. Each lesson is complete in itself and is explained with related drawings on a double-page spread. The late Peter Stammess was one of Manistique's early golfers and devoted to the sport.

"Sunnybank, Home of Lad", by Albert Payson Terhune, has been presented to the St. Francis de Sales Parish Library as a memorial to the late John Archambeau.

Donated by friends of the family, the book details canine courage, loyalty and intelligence and should be a favorite of all boys and girls.

Both books have been processed and are now available for circulation.

Mary Stoll, who was not present for the photograph, was another winner in the contest.

Poetry Contest Winners Given

Kathy Danko, Mary Stoll, Julie DeSautel and Frank Malette were announced as the winners of a Haiku poetry contest held last week in Mrs. Milton Larsen's 10th grade English class at the Manistique High School. Miss Corally Kell, student teacher from NMU, assisted Mrs. Larsen with the contest with Miss Patricia Hoeffler, Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur and Marvin Frederickson serving as judges.

Haiku poetry is a verse-form of the Japanese and usually contains only 17 syllables: the first and third lines contain five, the second seven. Haiku is not expected to always be a complete or even a clear statement. The reader is supposed to add to the words his own associations and imagery, thus becoming a co-creator of his own pleasure in the poem.

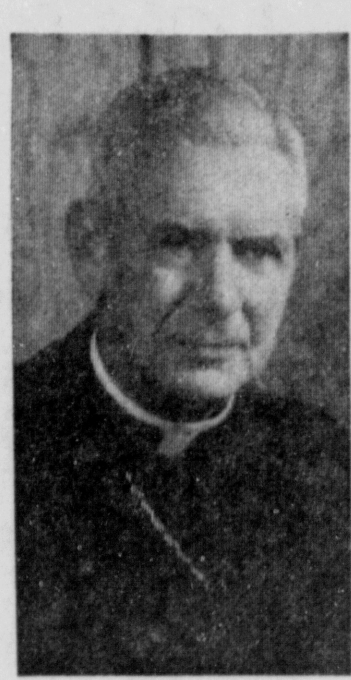

The winning poems:

"The bluest leaves fall upon the maiden snow And rustles heaven." — Mary Stoll

"The scarlet leaves fall And earth becomes as flame Last Warmth before the cold." — Frank Malette

"His wings never rest The elements can't stop him A shot, the leader falls dead." — Kathy Danko

"Upon autumn birds Creeping silent death draws nigh Slowly they lose flight." — Julie DeSautel

Microwave Heating Opens New Cookery Methods

Michigan State University food scientists will direct microwaves at food to add a new dimension to their food processing research.

Microwaves, a form of energy similar to light or radio waves, allow rapid heating of products, explains Prof. Walter Urbain. This research is made possible by the gift of a continuous microwave heating unit from Armour & Co.

"Our major emphasis will be on using microwave energy as a source of rapid heat in food processing operations," Urbain states. Housed in the new food science department's dairy plant, the heating unit is now ready for use in pilot plant studies and as a teaching facility.

Home-sized versions of the microwave heater are commonly known as "electronic ovens," Urbain notes. These are the ovens that can, for example, cook bacon in just a few minutes.

Molecules Line Up

Urbain explains that with microwave energy, heat is generated from inside the product. Food molecules have positive and negative ends. If placed in an electromagnetic field such as a microwave, they line up—negative end toward positive pole and positive end toward negative pole.

Now if the polarity of the electromagnetic field is alternated, Urbain continues, food molecules will move to stay lined up. The movement causes friction and heat, so the faster the polarity is alternated, the more heat is generated.

In the MSU microwave heater, the field is alternated over 900 million times per second. Kenneth Weil explains that the aim of the research will not be just to find processing uses for microwave energy, but to minimize the unique properties of this heating method.

It's Expensive

"It is relatively expensive, and probably wouldn't be economical to simply substitute microwaves for other forms of energy just as a source of heat," Weil states. "Other benefits would have to be gained for this to be a worthwhile investment."

Dr. Urbain cites the potato chip industry's use of microwave heating's special features. In deep-fat frying, moisture in the potato prevents the chips from burning. Problem is that the chips continue to heat after all water is driven off, and scorching results. These burned chips must be discarded, causing loss for manufacturers and, to some extent, higher prices to consumers.

No Crust

Since water in food absorbs microwaves, as soon as the last of the water in the chip is driven off, heating automatically stops and burning is impossible.

But the uniformity of heat in microwave cooking is a big drawback for some operations, Urbain points out. For example, the brown crust on bread represents an area that received more heat than the rest of the bread. Bread baked with microwaves would have no crust.

An outgrowth of World War II radar developments, microwave heating has found its way into many food and non-food operations. Work is being done in the areas of freeze-drying, cooking, sterilization, defrosting frozen food, and blanching.

Admiral, Editor Duel For Honor

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Adm. Benigno Varela and newspaper editor Yoliban Biglieri crossed swords in Argentina's first reported duel in many years.

The retired admiral challenged Biglieri after his paper criticized him.

Biglieri nicked the admiral's left cheek and ear. Varela scored to the editor's right cheekbone. They were eager to continue, but their seconds ruled that honor had been satisfied and stopped the match.
